Dear customers and users,

APM Terminals Callao (APMTC) has set special offers for the containers processed as Temporary Depot (code 3014) that meet the requirements below, according to the type of operation. Offers include the extension of days free of use of operational area and/or discounts on the price of the integrated temporary deposit service. Each promotion is independent (not cumulative); for example, if the user chooses promotion 1.1, they would not be able to apply to promotion 1.2, 1.3 or 1.4. Promotions are governed by the following terms:

1.1 Discount on Integrated Service Price and extension of free days – dry cargo import

- Target group: Importers of dry cargo containers (consignees or its representatives – customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.).

- Segment: Importers who address dry cargo to APMTC's Temporary Depot.

- Temporary offer: Importers of dry cargo (consignees or its representatives – customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.) who guarantee minimum amounts equal to or greater than 200, 300, 800, 1.6 thousands and 3 thousand containers through the APMTC's Temporary Depot will be granted discounts and extensions of the operating area (taking into account the 10 days including in the Integrated Service of Import Temporary Depot, sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List) as below:

- (i) ≥ 200 to 299 containers = 10 extra free days (resulting in a total of 20 free days)
- (ii) ≥ 300 to 799 containers = USD 40 discount from the price set out in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 10 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 20 free days)
- (iii) ≥ 800 to 1,599 containers = USD 40 discount from the price set out in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 20 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 30 free days)

- (v) $\geq 3,000$ containers = USD 60 discount from the price set out in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 20 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 30 free days)

- Effective: Importers may apply or request this promotion until December 31, 2023.

- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offer will be accounted for annually. That is, in the 12 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTC and the user) to start accounting for the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case, if the user's request for offer is accepted and it is agreed to start accounting on October 1, 2022, then the accounting will be made until September 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTC the projections of containers to be imported in the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space at the terminal.

In the event that the user fails to comply with entering the committed volume of containers into the DT 3014 within 12 months, an additional period of six (06) months may be granted to comply with the committed volume. This additional period will be granted as long as it has been verified that, in the first 12-month accounting period, the user has entered into the DT (3014) 100% of the containers unloaded by the North Terminal.

If, after the end of the twelve (12) months of accounting (or the 18 months in the cases that apply the extension of term), it is verified that the minimum volumes required for these offers have not been reached, APMTC will apply a penalty (the most favourable) to the user. Two types of penalties will be taken into account, but only one penalty will apply and it will be the one that is most favourable to the user. The penalties to be considered are as follows:

Penalty 1: APMTC will charge, as appropriate, the prices established in subsection 1.4.1 of the Tariff List in force at the time of verification (which refers to a package of services and the use of the operating area in Temporary Depot 3014 for dry import containers). That is, in the case of discounts, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary deposit service package that includes 10 days free of use of the operating area) will be charged. In the case of additional free days, and in case of non-compliance, the free days corresponding to the offer range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that are provided in excess of what the new default range (X) would correspond to it, in case of not reaching any offer rank, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2). The prices of the penalty for discount and use of the operational area will be invoiced on the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014.

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers – for which a discount of USD 40 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and referring to the discount granted, the user in the event of non-compliance will have to pay for the 700 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 (which is nothing more than paying for each of the 700 containers entered the amount of USD 40). In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (ii), only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area) and no additional 20 days off (a total of 30 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 21 to day 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 1, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2,000 containers – for which a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have to pay for the 200 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 (which is nothing more than paying USD 50 for each of the 200 containers entered) and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, for each of the 200 containers and as appropriate, the user will have to pay the prices of subsection 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to 20, from day 21 to 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

Penalty 2: In the case of discounts, the user will pay the amount of the discount on the number of containers missing to reach the target committed to APMTC. In the case of the additional free days that have been granted, the penalty applies to the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014 and its application is the same as that described in penalty 1; that is, in case of non-compliance, the free days that correspond to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that have been provided in excess to what would correspond to the new default range (X); in case of not reaching any promotion rank, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 of the Tariff will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2).

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers – for which a discount of USD 40 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 100 containers to reach the commitment of 800 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 40 for each one of the 100 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (ii), only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area) and no additional 20 days off (a total of 30 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 21 to day 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 2, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2,000 containers – for which a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 1,800 containers to reach the commitment of 2,000 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 50 for each one of the 1,800 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 200 containers were reached and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, he will be charged to the user for the 200 containers, as appropriate, the prices of subsection 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to 20, from day 21 to 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

This offer unless promotions 1.1 and 1.4 described in version 11.1 of the Tariff List without altering in any way the benefit granted to users.

In case of changes in the prices of the subsections 1.4.1.1 to 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List, the discounts of USD 40, USD 50 or USD 60 apply to these modified prices in force at the time of invoicing. See invoicing details in the Regulation of Tariffs and Commercial Policy of APM Terminals Callao.

- This offer is subject to availability of space determined by APMTC.

1.2 Discount on Integrated Service Price and extension of free days – dry cargo export

- Target group: General users (exporters, forwarders or its representatives – customs brokers, logistics operators, etc. and other users) of containers with dry export cargo.

- Segment: Exporters who address dry cargo to APMTC's Temporary Depot.

- Temporary offer: Exporters/forwarders or its representatives – customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.) who guarantee minimum amounts of more than 300, 700, 800, and 3,000 containers using the APMTC's Temporary Depot will be granted discounts and extensions of the operating area use (taking into account the 7 days including in the Integrated Service of Export Temporary Depot: sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List), according to the table below:

- (i) ≥ 300 to 699 containers = 3 extra free days (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (ii) ≥ 700 hasta 799 contenedores = USD 20 discount from the price set out in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers and 3 extra free days (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (iii) ≥ 800 to 2,999 containers = USD 20 discount from the price set out in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers and 8 extra free days (resulting in a total of 15 free days)
- (iv) $\geq 3,000$ containers = USD 20 discount from the price set out in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers and 13 extra free days (resulting in a total of 20 free days)

- Effective: Exporters may apply or request this promotion until December 31, 2023.

- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offer will be accounted for annually. That is, in the 12 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTC and the user) to start accounting for the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case, if the user's request for offer is accepted and it is agreed to start accounting on October 1, 2022, then the accounting will be made until September 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTC the projections of containers to be imported in the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space at the terminal.

In the event that the user fails to comply with entering the committed volume of containers into the DT 3014 within 12 months, an additional period of six (06) months may be granted to comply with the committed volume. This additional period will be granted as long as it has been verified that, in the first 12-month accounting period, the user has entered into the DT (3014) 100% of the containers loaded by the North Terminal.

If, after the end of the twelve (12) months of accounting (or the 18 months in the cases that apply the extension of term), it is verified that the minimum volumes required for these offers have not been reached, APMTC will apply a penalty (the most favourable) to the user. Two types of penalties will be taken into account, but only one penalty will apply and it will be the one that is most favourable to the user. The penalties to be considered are as follows:

Penalty 1: APMTC will charge, as appropriate, the prices established in subsection 1.4.2 of the Tariff List in force at the time of verification (which refers to a package of services and the use of the operating area in Temporary Depot 3014 for dry export containers). That is, in the case of discounts, the prices of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary deposit service package that includes 07 days free of use of the operational area) will be charged. In the case of additional free days, and in case of non-compliance, the free days corresponding to the offer range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that are provided in excess of what the new default range (X) would correspond to it, in case of not reaching any offer rank, the prices of subsections 1.4.2.3, 1.4.2.4, 1.4.2.5 and 1.4.2.6 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the seven days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2). The prices of the penalty for discount and use of the operational area will be invoiced on the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014.

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers – for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and referring to the discount granted, the user in the event of non-compliance will have to pay for the 700 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 (which is nothing more than paying for each of the 700 containers entered the amount of USD 20). In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (ii), only 03 additional free days would have corresponded (10 days of use of operational area in total) and no the additional 08 days off (a total of 15 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 1.4.2.4, 1.4.2.5 and 1.4.2.6 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to day 15) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 1, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (equal to or more than 3 thousand containers) and promised to enter 4,000 containers – for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 13 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 20 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have to pay for the 200 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 (which is nothing more than paying USD 20 for each of the 200 containers entered) and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, for each of the 200 containers and as appropriate, the user will have to pay the prices of subsection 1.4.2.3 and/or 1.4.2.4 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 09 to 10 and from day 11 to day 20) in force at the time of verification.

Penalty 2: In the case of discounts, the user will pay the amount of the discount on the number of containers missing to reach the target committed to APMTC. In the case of the additional free days that have been granted, the penalty applies to the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014 and its application is the same as that described in penalty 1; that is, in case of non-compliance, the free days that correspond to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that have been provided in excess to what would correspond to the new default range (X); in case of not reaching any promotion rank, the prices of subsections 1.4.2.3 and 1.4.2.4 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the seven days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2).

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers – for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 100 containers to reach the commitment of 800 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 20 for each one of the 100 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (ii), only 03 additional free days would have corresponded (10 days of use of operational area in total) and no the additional 08 days off (a total of 15 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 1.4.2.4 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to day 15) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 2, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (equal to or more than 3 thousand containers) and promised to enter 4,000 containers – for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 13 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 20 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 3,800 containers to reach the commitment of 4,000 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 20 for each one of the 3,800 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 200 containers were reached and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, for each of the 200 containers and as appropriate, the user will have to pay the prices of subsection 1.4.2.3 and/or 1.4.2.4 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 09 to 10 and from day 11 to day 20) in force at the time of verification.

This offer unless promotions 1.2 and 1.5 described in version 11.1 of the Tariff List without altering in any way the benefit granted to users.

In case of changes in the prices of the subsections 1.4.2.1 or 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List, the discounts of USD 20 apply to these modified prices in force at the time of invoicing. See invoicing details in the Regulation of Tariffs and Commercial Policy of APM Terminals Callao.

- This offer is subject to availability of space determined by APMTC.

1.3 Discount on Integrated Service Price and extension of free days – Import/Export dry cargo

- Target group: General users (importers/consignees and exporters/forwarders or its representatives – customs brokers, logistics operators, etc. – and other users) of containers with import/export dry cargo. If import containers only are mobilized, the discount on item 1.1 will be granted, and if export containers only are mobilized, the discount on item 1.2 will be granted.

- Segment: Users who address dry cargo to APMTC's Temporary Depot.

- Temporary offer: Users who mobilize import and export dry cargo containers together who guarantee minimum amounts equal or more than 300, 700, 800, 1600 and 3,000 containers through the APMTC's Temporary Depot will be granted discounts and extensions in the use of operational area with respect to the prices and days of use of free operating area considering in the Special Integrated Temporary Depot Service for Import and Export Dry Containers (Sections 1.4.1.1, 1.4.1.2, 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List), according to the table below:

- (i) ≥ 300 to 699 containers = 10 additional free days with respect to the free days of use of operational area indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (which results in a total of 20 free days) and 3 additional free days with respect to the free days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (ii) > 700 to 799 containers = USD 40 discount and 10 additional free days with respect to the prices and free days indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (resulting in a total of 20 free days) and USD 20 discount and 3 additional free days with respect to the prices and days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (iii) ≥ 800 to 1,599 containers = USD 40 discount and 20 additional free days with respect to the prices and free days indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (resulting in a total of 30 free days) and USD 20 discount and 8 additional free days with respect to the prices and days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 15 free days)
- (iv) $\geq 1,600$ to 2,999 containers = USD 50 discount and 20 additional free days with respect to the prices and free days indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (resulting in a total of 30 free days) and USD 20 discount and 8 additional free days with respect to the prices and days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 15 free days)
- (v) $\geq 3,000$ containers = USD 60 discount and 20 additional free days with respect to the prices and free days indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (resulting in a total of 30 free days) and USD 20 discount and 13 additional free days with respect to the prices and days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 20 free days)

- Effective: Users may apply or request this offer until December 31, 2023.
- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offers will be accounted for annually; that is to say, in the 12 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTTC and the user) to start counting the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case, if the user's request for promotion is accepted and it is agreed that the posting on October 1, 2022, then the accounting will be made until September 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTTC the projections of containers that will be imported and exported in the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space in the terminal.

In the event that the user fails to comply with entering the committed volume of containers into the DT 3014 within 12 months, an additional period of six (6) months may be granted to comply with the availability of space. This additional period will be granted as long as it has been verified that, in the first 12-month accounting period, the user has entered into the DT (3014) 100% of the containers loaded and unloaded in the Terminal.

If, after the end of the twelve (12) months of accounting (or the 18 months in the cases that apply the extension of term), it is verified that the minimum volumes required for these offers have not been reached, APMTTC will apply a penalty (the most favourable) to the user. Two types of penalties will be taken into account, but only one penalty will apply and it will be the one that is most favourable to the user. The penalties to be considered are as follows:

Penalty 1: APMTTC will charge, as appropriate, the prices established in the subsections 1.4.1 and 1.4.2 of the Tariff List in force at the time of verification (which refers to a package of services and the use of operational area in Temporary Depot 2014 for dry import and export containers). That is, in the case of discounts, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary depot service package that includes 10 days free of use of the operating area) for the case of imports and the prices of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary depot service package that includes 07 days free of use of the operational area) for the case of exports will be charged. In the case of additional free days and in case of non-compliance, the free days corresponding to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned; while for the days that have been provided in excess (additional) to which the new range (Y) is granted, the respective charge will be made for those days of excess. In case of not reaching any promotion range, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 of the Tariff List will be charged in the case of imports (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the Temporary Depot service package of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2) and the prices of subsections 1.4.2.3 y 1.4.2.4 of the Tariff List for the case of export (which refers to be charged for the additional days used after the seven days included in the Temporary Depot service package of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2). The prices of the penalty for discount and use of the operational area will be invoiced on the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014.

For example, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2 thousand containers (1 thousand of import and 1 thousand of export)-therefore, in the case of imports, a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, and in the case of exports, a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 750 containers (400 of import and 350 of export). In this scenario, and with regard to the discount granted, the user in case of non-compliance will have to pay, for the 400 import containers entered into the DT 3014, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 (which is nothing other than paying for each of the 400 containers entered the amount of USD 50) and, for the 350 export containers, he will have to pay the prices of the subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List (which is nothing more than paying for each of the 350 containers received the amount of USD 20). In the case of the free days granted, the commitment was to be located in the offer rank iv, for which an additional 20 free days were granted in case of importation (20 days of use of the operating area in total) and 8 additional free days in case of export (15 days of use of operational area in total); however, since 750 containers were reached and this volume is in the second offer range (ii), in the case of importation, only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area in total) and, in the case of export, 3 additional days off (10 days of use of the operating area in total); then the 400 import containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 21 to 30 that they have used (i. e. they will be charged, as appropriate, the prices of the subsections 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5) and 350 export containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 11 to 15 that they have used (i. e. they will be charged the price of subsection 1.4.2.4 as appropriate).

Penalty 2: In the case of discounts, the user will pay the amount of the discount on the number of containers missing to reach the target committed to APMTTC. In the case of the additional free days that have been granted, the penalty applies to the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014 and its application is the same as that described in penalty 1; that is, in case of non-compliance, the free days that correspond to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that have been provided in excess to what would correspond to the new default range (Y) in the case of not reaching any promotion range, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 will be charged in the case of imports (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the Temporary Depot service package of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2) and the prices of subsections 1.4.2.3 y 1.4.2.4 of the Tariff List for the case of export (which refers to be charged for the additional days used after the seven days included in the Temporary Depot service package of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2).

For example, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2 thousand containers (1 thousand of import and 1 thousand of export)-therefore, in the case of imports, a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, and in the case of exports, a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 750 containers (400 of import and 350 of export). In this scenario, and with regard to the discount granted, the user will have a deficit of 600 import containers and 650 export containers; therefore, the user will have to pay USD 60 for each of the 600 import containers and USD 20 for each of the 650 export containers that were not entered to reach the agreed objective. In the case of the free days granted, the commitment was to be located in the offer rank iv, for which an additional 20 free days were granted in case of importation (20 days of use of the operating area in total) and 8 additional free days in case of export (15 days of use of operational area in total); however, since 750 containers were reached and this volume is in the second offer range (ii), in the case of importation, only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area in total) and, in the case of export, 3 additional days off (10 days of use of the operating area in total); then the 400 import containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 21 to 30 that they have used (i. e. they will be charged, as appropriate, the prices of the subsections 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5) and 350 export containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 11 to 15 that they have used (i. e. they will be charged the price of subsection 1.4.2.4 as appropriate).

- Other offer promotions 1.3 and 1.6 described in 1.1.1 of the Tariff List without altering in any way the benefit granted to users.

In case of changes in the prices of the subsections 1.4.1 or 1.4.2 of the Tariff List, the discounts apply to these modified prices in force at the time of invoicing. See invoicing details in the Regulation of Tariffs and Commercial Policy of APM Terminals Callao.

- This offer is subject to availability of space determined by APMTTC.

- Target group: General users (importers/consignees and exporters/forwarders or its representatives –customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.- and other users) of containers with import/export dry cargo. This offer is independent of the offers listed above (1.1 to 1.3); that is, those who are granted this promotion will not be eligible for offers from 1.1 to 1.3. Applies to new users.

8.2 Second offer: two types of discounts on standard service, 14 days free of use of operating area, free pool and exemption from change of status

- Target group: Users (shipping lines or its representatives) that move transshipment containers through the North Multi-purpose Terminal
- Temporary offer: Users who move transshipment containers equal to or greater than 1,800 weekly average containers, over a period of one year, will be granted similar discounts or benefits as offer 7.1, but an additional discount is added to the standard service tariff that will be reflected in discount amounts and other additional benefits. The details of the discounts and benefits of this offer are as follows:
 - i) Charge of an initial offer tariff of USD 90 for standard 20-foot transshipment container service (Section 1.1.2.7 of the Tariff List) and USD 120 for standard 40-foot transshipment container service (Section 1.1.2.8 of the Tariff List).
 - ii) Additional discount of USD 35 per container on the offer tariffs described in item (i), but which may be given for a maximum of 17,715 containers in each quarter during the annual period of the offer. This additional discount, which will be applied for a period of one year, will be for one time only; that is, it will not apply in case of renewal of this promotion.
 - iii) Granting of 14 free days of use of the operational area (which represents 12 additional free days to the 48 free hours currently granted) for both container sizes (20 and 40 feet).
 - iv) Granting of a free pool of 300 TEUs (use of operational area of 300 TEUs of transshipment without time limit). This free pool is granted to those containers that have exceeded the 14 days of use of the operational area.
 - v) Exemption from payment of container status change surcharge.
- Effective: The offer may be requested from April 11, 2023 to December 31, 2023
- Requirements:
 - The average weekly volume will be counted and calculated within the annual period agreed by APMTIC and the user, which may be the earliest date to start counting on April 1, 2023 (for example and as a hypothetical case; if the user's request for offer is accepted and it is agreed that the accounting will start on 1 April 2023, then the accounting will be carried out until March 31, 2024. As a second hypothetical example; if the user's offer request is accepted and it is agreed to start accounting on 1 June 2023, then accounting will be done until 31 May 2024). All types of transshipment (full cycle or inter-terminal) shall be accounted. Accounting is per container; for example, during this annual period the user could move a weekly average of 1,700 full cycle containers and 100 inter-terminal containers, which add up to a weekly average of 1,800 containers (which results in a weekly average of 3,500 movements: 3,400 full cycle movements and 100 inter-terminal movements). The average weekly count is calculated by taking into account the total number of transshipment containers moved during this annual period and is divided by the number of weeks in that period (which is 52 weeks). For this purpose, users should submit to the APMTIC commercial area the projections of transshipment containers that they will be mobilize during the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of terminal space.
 - APMTIC will carry out a review every three (03) months of the weekly average of the transshipment containers mobilized by the user requesting the promotion; if it is verified, during the review, that the user has not met the required weekly average, then APMTIC may cancel the promotion.
 - APMTIC will carry out a review every three (03) months of the weekly average of the transshipment containers mobilized by the user requesting the promotion; if it is verified, during the review, that the user is meeting the required weekly average, then APMTIC will apply for that quarterly period and with respect to the item i) discount, the additional discount of USD 35 (on the initial promotional tariffs for standard service of containers of item i) over a maximum of 17,715 transshipment containers. This quarterly discount, which will apply to a maximum of 17,715 containers, will be granted in the form of a credit note or another modality agreed upon by the shipping line and APMTIC.
 - In case of containers that exceed the 14 days free of use of the operating area and the free pool of 300 TEU, the user will have to assume the payment of the tariff applicable from the 15th day onwards (subsections 1.2.6.4 and 1.2.7.4 of the Tariff List). However, if the user mobilizes more than 1,800 containers per week on average, APMTIC may extend, subject to space availability, the days of use of the operational area for those containers that remain more than 14 days and cannot access the free pool. The extension days would be up to seven days at most. If APMTIC grants this benefit to a user, it will be applied to other users under similar conditions.
- This offer will be subject to space availability confirmed by APMTIC

 - The minimum volume of 25 thousand containers will be accounted during the period of validity of the offer; that is, between February 24, 2023 until February 23, 2024.
 - If, during weekly or monthly reviews of the volume of empty containers exported by shipping lines, it is found that the shipping line will not reach the minimum volume required during the annual period, then the offer to that shipping line will be cancelled.
