“We know how to handle your cargo with care”

Break Bulk cargo includes yachts, masts, industrial machines or train carriages. Break Bulk significantly exceeds the size and/or weight of a standard container and is therefore handled as non-unitised cargo and normally placed on a bed of flat racks with a large number of lashing points.

Requirements:

- ▶ Loading plans, with lifting information.
- ▶ Ship stowage plans.
- ▶ Weight information and cargo measurements
- ▶ Instructions, if any, of the lashing.
- ▶ Pictures
